BLOCKCHAIN FOR MINING

Entering the digitized route for mining

20th - 21st February 2019 | Pan Pacific Perth, Australia

“The industry is primed for blockchain disruption to simplify the trading process, increase efficiency and profitability”

- Boris Eykher, Chief Executive Officer of Open Mineral

EVENT OVERVIEW

Mining as an industry has increasingly growing and served almost every country, Australia in particular as the highest GDP contributor. Presumably, the mining industry will be growing more than 6% of increment in 2018 onwards. Investment funded and contributed for mining industry reaches AU$498.5 million on March 2018 which is then expected to grow even more in the future and the upcoming years. The growth of mining industry has disclosed to larger issues on security, logistical and supply chain. Hence, blockchain is pushed to be the advanced method to encounter the rising issues.

The sustainability of mining industry is very essential to a lot of countries. Blockchain as a disruptor is inevitably revolutionizing the productivity of mining industry. This has so far been paralleled to the idea of Boris Eykher, CEO of Open Mineral as he did say, “Commodity trading transactions involve multiple parties, located in different jurisdictions. Logistics are complex, financing is difficult to acquire, and the entire process is very paper heavy. Thus, the industry is primed for blockchain disruption to simplify the trading process, increase efficiency and profitability.”

Looking into all the significant values of mining industry and its’ rising issues, blockchain is a necessity to disrupt and drive the industry to overall transparency, secured information system, and reduce bulky hardcopy storage. Book a seat now and join us at Blockchain for Mining by Trueventus and had the best informative sessions with our engaging speakers. Do not miss this lifetime chance.
